

About Jean –

“I love serving the residents of Cumberland County. It is an honor to represent the many, diverse needs of the people of Cumberland.”

Jean was first elected County Commissioner in 2019 and is seeking re-election in 2023. She serves as a member of the Harrisburg Area Transportation Study Coordinating Committee; Local Emergency Planning Committee and on the Board of the Cumberland Area Economic Development Association. Jean is the Commissioner Liaison to the Children and Youth Citizens Advisory Committee; Cumberland County Library System; Cumberland County Planning Commission; Stop Violence Against Women Task Force and the Western Council of Governments.

Jean is a wife and mother. She lives in Upper Allen Township with her husband Tony and sons, Leo and John. Leo and John are students in the Mechanicsburg Area School District.

Jean holds a Bachelor's in political science and a paralegal certificate from Penn State. Prior to her first term as a County Commissioner, Jean worked as a paralegal, title agent, restaurateur and fitness professional. She served on the Upper Allen Township's Zoning Hearing Board from 2005-2019.

Jean's experiences in service industries framed her approach to the job of Commissioner. Her commitment to service as well as her empathetic nature influenced her goal of providing excellent constituent service. She regularly talks with residents and often meets people for lunch or coffee to talk about the issues that are important to them. “So many people just want to be heard. Government is often seen as slow-moving, disinterested and callous. People want representation that takes their problems seriously. I believe my approach to the position has been a breath of fresh air.

No matter the need western or west shore.....two care about one group or issue is not to care less about another, connected, all important, voice for everyone.
